

Fall Protection Training (Newfoundland – WHSCC Certified) (2 Days)

Anyone who uses fall protection equipment in Newfoundland and Labrador are required to complete a fall protection training course approved by the Workplace Health Safety & Compensation Commission (WHSCC). Knowing how to properly use fall protection equipment is critical for the safety of workers.

Fall protection certification training has an expiry date of three (3) years, at which time the course must be completed again for renewal certification.

For further information, please feel free to contact us (902) 835-3727 or visit our web site. www.toalltech.com